MARTHA S. PRATT
Director of Home Economics

Foreword

The Home Economics program at State University of New York Teachers College at Oneonta was established five years ago in September of nineteen hundred and forty-eight.

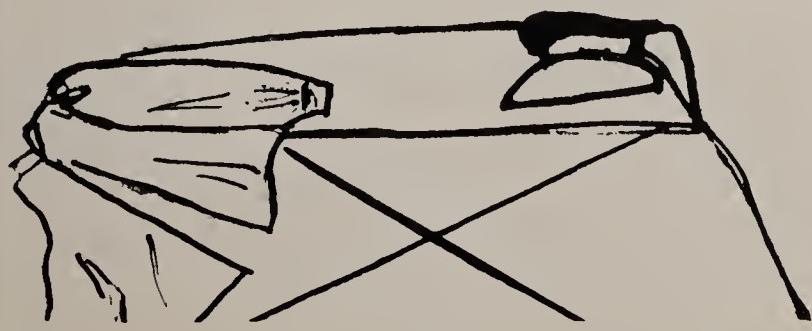

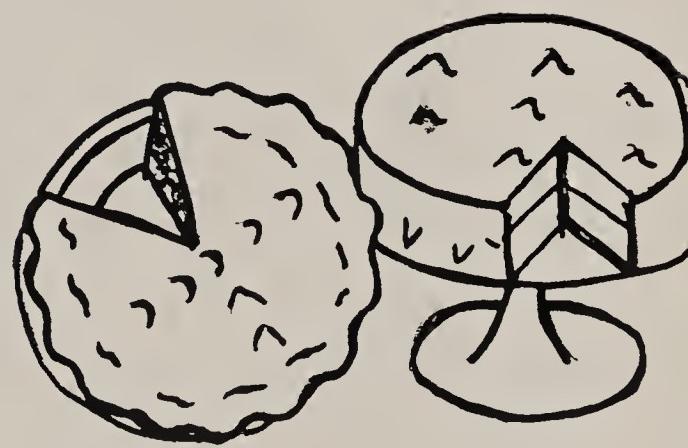

The program provided for personal development, for substantial general college education and for professional preparation. It also provided services to the students in the Elementary Division as a means of enriching their lives and thereby increasing their effectiveness as teachers of children.

Because the concern of Home Economics is the enrichment and improvement in family living, the curriculum is broad in scope. The curriculum is closely related to the social and physical sciences as well as to the arts.

Faculty

We not only see our faculty in class, but also enjoy a cigarette and some intellectual discussion with them in the coffee shop after class. No faculty member is too busy to be bothered with our problems, whether they be academic or personal. We owe it to our faculty as well as to ourselves to become the best teachers we can.

We all know the importance environment plays in our lives; therefore as we look back on our years at State we will remember the walk to the dorm, the college camp, sitting on the front lawn, the shouts of Bugbee children on the playground, the beauty of the upper campus, and the people who make our campus live.

FROSH CAMP

Cold feet, but they went swimming and boating; cool nights, but they attended the vespers services on the shores of Otsego Lake; bumpy cots, but they slept soundly until the breakfast gong sounded. They sang in front of the bonfire and met many new people.

Candlelight Service

One of our most cherished traditions is the Candlelight Service. This year, when the classes formed their circle on the front lawn, there was no wind so every student's candle glowed brightly, making a large circle of light.

Our Library

We read the morning paper, the latest magazine, or a book. Around 3 p.m., we scrambled for that certain reference book, with the red tag. Amid back issues of magazines in the conference room we did research and typed our papers.

Board

The Student League Board has the tremendous responsibility of making allocations to the various activities from a $22, 887 student fund. It also acts as a sounding board for problems. This year the Student League Board worked hand in hand with the Camp Committee in setting up the camp work day. It scheduled student meeting times. The board also compiled a handbook of rules and regulations for our college.

About Seniors

Crazy parties, good times, last minute papers-happiness and a little heartbreak have consumed four years of our lives. Events that cannot and should not be forgotten will become mellowed by time. These years, the bulwark for facing the future, hold many memories. May these memories be the foundation of our individual growth and of that of the world.

 Frank Pazel for taking many of the photographs in this book,
 Dr. T. C. Helvey and Dr. Emery Will for their kindness in taking and developing photographs,
 Mr. George Humphrey, publisher's representative, for his time,
 The Home Economics Department for their kind cooperation,
 And to the entire student body and faculty-----many thanks.

STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

The State University of New York was founded in 1948 to make higher education available to all qualified youth of the State, regardless of race, color, creed, nationality, economic status or place of residence. Today the University is composed of 33 colleges including two liberal arts colleges, twenty professional colleges and eleven two-year technical institutes. The student body totals approximately 32,000 and there are more than 3,000 faculty members.

Oneonta is one of the eleven teachers colleges, with an enrollment of 723 students and a faculty of 83. Although we cherish our own distinctive traditions, we share many interests, benefits and rewards with the other member institutions of our University.

Farewell

Oneonta, Alma Mater
Glorious is thy view.
We, thy children, love thy honor,
Love thy purpose true.

Chorus: Shout the name 'tis Oneonta,
Loud her glories sing.
With her praises all unnumbered
Let the dear hills ring.

On the pines and shifting shadows,
On the busy town,
On the distant strengthening hilltops,
Look we fondly down.

When the coming years will part us
From thy fostering care
We shall turn with fondest yearning
To thy halls so fair.

For many years this store has been friendly with the students at the college, and now that you are graduating, we extend to you our best wishes.

Always come in when you are in
